

Updates to Inpatient Labels and Wristbands

Corewell Health East

Inpatient labels and wristbands printed from Zebra printers will be updated with a new font and format to help with legibility and improve patient safety. This impacts all Corewell Health East locations.

What's changing and why

On May 29, inpatient labels and wristbands will be standardized across all Corewell Health East hospitals and will print in a new font to make them more legible and improve numeric clarity.

- For a small subset of Corewell Health West and South locations, the font on the Zebra Printers will change to match Corewell Health East.
 - Zebra Printers are currently only rolled out at some locations but will become more widely used as Intermec printers run through their life cycles.

What's not changing

- Infant and pediatric wristbands for Corewell Health East locations
- Labels and wristbands printed from non-Zebra printers, such as Intermec printers
- Corewell Health South sheet printed inpatient labels
